Can people with allergies own a Cavapoo?

The Truth About Dog Allergies

Many families come to us because they love dogs but worry about allergies. While no dog is truly 100% hypoallergenic, Cavapoos are often a wonderful option for people with mild to moderate dog allergies.

Why Are Cavapoos Often Easier on Allergy Sufferers?

Dog allergies are usually caused by proteins found in:

- Dander (dead skin cells)
- Saliva
- Urine

It's not just the fur that causes allergic reactions.

Because many Cavapoos inherit the Poodle's low-shedding coat, they often release less dander into the environment than many other breeds.

However, every person and every dog is different.

We Recommend the "T-Shirt Test"

How it works:

We place a clean cotton T-shirt in the puppy's sleeping area for 24-48 hours.

We will mail the shirt to you. You can start by just placing the shirt near you and eventually wearing it. This exposes your immune system to the puppy's dander and saliva proteins before you bring a puppy home.
