CAVAPOO VS GOLDENDOODLE

COAT/SHEDDING	Cavapoos often inherit tighter, curlier coats from the Poodle, making them typically lower-shedding.	Goldendoodles can be low-shedding (the more poodle, the less the shedding)
TRAINABILITY	Cavapoos tend to learn commands and tricks faster.	Goldendoodles are friendly, outgoing, intelligent, and can be highly obedient with proper training. They love to play!
ENERGY & TEMPERAMENT	Cavapoos have moderate energy and love to cuddle. They are laid back and gentle and tend to match the energy of their owners.	Goldendoodles require regular exercise and do well in homes with a backyard or a nearby dog park.
SIZE	Cavapoos generally weigh between 8 to 15 pounds.	Goldendoodles are significantly larger, averaging 15 to 90 pounds.
LIFE EXPECTANCY & LONGEVITY	Cavapoos often enjoy a slightly longer lifespan, averaging 13 to 15 years, reflecting generally good health and veterinary advances.	Goldendoodles tend to have fewer health issues than Cavapoos (as Cavaliers are known for heart issues), with an average lifespan of 10-15 years.
